

As we celebrate our ten-year anniversary, we think of the daffodil, a symbol of resilience. Just as the daffodil courageously pushes its head up through the dark earth each season, we know that God's love will help the at-risk children of Ecuador to grow in resilience and enable them to stand strong and victoriously overcome the struggles of this world.

GIVE Christmas

to a child in Ecuador

so they know that they matter, and that there is always hope in Jesus!

This Christmas, at-risk children across Ecuador will have little to celebrate and may not receive any gifts. Instead, Christmas will be another day to struggle to simply survive.

For 10 years, Project M:25 Missions has been fighting against the damaging effects of poverty in the lives of these precious children. We've watched these children find redemption, restoration, and transformation through sharing the love of God with them.

All it takes is for one person to show they care, and a child's life can be changed from despair to HOPE! Each $25 you send to Give Christmas provides one child with gifts that say, "You're precious to God and to me!" When a child knows you care, it changes their life!

That's what happened when one special partner — someone like you — provided a Christmas present for a little girl who felt overlooked and unwanted. She squealed in delight with the brightest smile and said,

"I can't believe it - how did God know exactly what I wanted?"

That's the kind of difference you'll make when you Give Christmas today. You can allow the joy of Christmas to bless a child who often faces great struggle and darkness. You can be the one person to show them God's love.

Your gift could make all the difference!

Blessings,

Billy & Tamitha
